Annie Chih, DVM, DACVECC

Dr. Chih is a Board Certified Emergency and Critical Care Specialist at Animal Medical Center of Seattle.

Born and raised in Queens, New York, Dr. Chih's first job was as a kennel/veterinary assistant. She received her DVM from the University of Missouri's College of Veterinary Medicine in 2011. During veterinary school, she saw the diversity of emergency/critical cases as personal challenges with her ultimate inspiration coming from her mother who taught her to have a strong work ethic with compassion for all beings.

Following graduation, Dr. Chih completed a small animal medicine and surgery rotating internship at Michigan Veterinary Specialists in 2012. She then completed an emergency/critical care specialty internship and a residency in emergency/critical care, both at Lakeshore Veterinary Specialists in Glendale, Wisconsin. Dr. Chih obtained board certification in emergency and critical care thereafter.

Dr. Chih's specialty interests include fluid therapy, transfusion medicine, polytrauma, critical care nutrition, multimodal analgesia, ultrasonography, and the value of the human-animal bond.

Dr. Chih is a certified CPR rescuer in basic life support (BLS) and advanced life support (ALS) through the RECOVER (Reassessment Campaign on Veterinary Resuscitation) initiative, which is endorsed by the American College of Veterinary Emergency and Critical Care (ACVECC) and the Veterinary Emergency and Critical Care Society (VECCS).
